

took long to attract industry, and population consequently did not grow fast enough to justify an architectural display of public buildings as the plan had foreseen them along the large central square or green. In fact the visual failure of Letchworth is that very square, laid out in axis with the station and at r. angles to another main axis.

PERAMBULATIONS

1. The Town Centre
2. The residential areas
 - (a) E of the centre
 - (b) N of the centre
 - (c) S and W of the centre
 - (d) Old Letchworth
 - (e) Recent housing estates